LET IT PASS.

Be not swift to take offense;
Let it pass!
Anger is a foe to sense;
Let it pass!
Brood not on thy o'er a wrong
Which will disappear ere long;
Rather sing this cheery song—
Let it pass!
Let it pass!

Strife corrodes the purest mind;
Let it pass!
As the unregarded wind,
Let it pass!
Any vulgar souls that live
May condemn without reprieve;
'Tis the noble who forgive,
Let it pass!
Let it pass!

Echo not an angry word;
Let it pass!
Think how often you have erred;
Let it pass!
Since our joys must pass away,
Like the dewdrops on the spray,
Wherefore should our sorrows stay?
Let it pass!
Let it pass!

If for good you've taken ill,
Let it pass!
Oh! be kind and gentle still;
Let it pass!
Time at last makes all things straight;
Let us not resent, but wait,
And our triumph shall be great;
Let it pass!
Let it pass!

Bid your anger to depart;
Let it pass!
Lay these homely words to heart,
Let it pass!
Follow not the giddy throng:
Better to be wronged than wrong:
Therefore sing the cheery song,
Let it pass!
Let it pass!

AN OLD MAID.

In girlish wonder, "it is strange,"
You say, "to hear a laugh so light—
To see such lovely rounded cheeks,
Such smiling lips and eyes so bright,
Such pretty hair, unmarked with gray,
A brow where lingers naught of shame,
And know that she who owns them all
Is an old maid."

Those eyes never lost their gentle gleam;
Because they are the home of truth;
And thoughts of charity and love
Have stamped the brow and lips with youth.
And if the cheeks are still as round
As when they dimpled long ago,
'Tis children's kisses on them pressed
Have kept them so.

In the Australian Forest.

[Chambers' Journal.]

Morning and evening the Australian forest is awake; at noon it is asleep. No greater contrast can be imagined than between the morning hours and those of midday. In the former, the very flowers seem to possess an active existence. Myriads of such, larger and more brilliant than those under English skies, load the air with the sweetest scents; magnificent tree-ferns wave their fronds or branches in the light breeze; on old stumps of trees great green and yellow lizards lie watching for their prey; the magpie throws her voice from the wattles, and possibly the lyre-bird in the dense scrub; and in the tall gums numberless paroquets, parrots, rosellas, cockatoos, butcher-birds, love-birds, etc., are screaming and darting to and fro. But by and by the intense heat will silence all these, and nothing will be heard but the chirp of the grasshopper and the shrill sound of some unseen insect. At twilight again there is a revival of life, but not of so cheerful a description. The cicadas shriek by myriads their deafening "p-r-r-r-r-r;" drowsy opossums snarl in the gum-boles, and flocks of cockatoos scream as some great gray kangaroo bounds past them like a belated ghost. If there is marshy ground near, the deep boom of the bittern, the wail of the curlew, and the harsh cry of the crane, mingling possibly with those of a returning or passing flock of black swans, will add to the concert. In a moment of silence one may be startled by the mocking laughter of the jackass, or the melancholy "mo-poke" or ("more-pork") of the bird of that name. The dead of night is not so still as the universal hush of the burning noon.

LITTLE JACK HORNER.—The origin of the nursery rhyme has been said to be as follows: When monasteries and their property were seized, orders were given that the title-deed of the abbey estate at Mells, which were very valuable should be given up to the commissioners. The mode chosen of sending them was in the form of a pastry to be sent as a present from the abbot to one of the commissioners in London, Jack Horner, a poor lad was chose as messenger. Tired, he rested in as comfortable a corner as he could on his way. Hungry, he determined to taste the pastry he was carrying. Inserting his thumb into the pie he found nothing but parchment deeds. One of these he pulled out and pocketed, as likely to be valuable. The Abbott Whiting of Mells was executed for having withheld the missing parchment. In the Horner family was discovered years afterward the plum that Jack had picked out, one of the chief title-deeds of Mells abbey and lands.

Small child (to youthful acquaintance): "Ma says I must not play with you, because my papa is an officer, and you are common children." Little Brown (in a rage): "Common children, indeed! Mamma says my papa is a bankrupt and that he will always remain one."

"Girls," shrieks an exchange, "don't marry a man to save him." Well, if they don't marry a man, whom will they marry?

Mark Twain's Story of a Dead Man.

I once heard Mark Twain tell this inimitable story illustrating how mean men could be, and it struck me as being one of the funniest and most pointed tales I ever heard. It was in substance that a poor laborer was at work blasting in a ledge, when a blast exploded, and he was blown out of sight into the air. He was blown so far skyward that he was gone fifteen minutes, at the end of which time he was back and went to work. The company, however were mean enough to take fifteen minutes out of his wages. The absurdity of this story would bring a smile to the gravest face, especially if told by the Hartford wit. That company might, indeed, be taken as a criterion for meanness, but now they must yield the palm to a Boston firm whose actions were without parallel, and are exciting unfavorable comments in all parts of the city. The firm alluded to carry on the clothing business at the North End, and in their employ are thirty-five girls, more or less. Just before Thanksgiving, the girls, prompted by the best of feelings conceived idea of making the two members of the firm a present. The hat was passed among them and $22 was obtained, which was expended in two albums. The afternoon before Thanksgiving, was selected for the time to make the presentation, and the whole business was done in approved style and seemingly to the satisfaction of all concerned. The sequel follows: When the next pay day came around, each girl had the pay of half an hour, the time occupied in making the presentation, taken from her wages! Here is a theme for Mark Twain.

Auction of Ladies.

It is very well known tha the auction of unmarried ladies used to take place annually in Babylon, "In every district," says the historian, "they assemble on a certain day of every year all the virgins of marriageable age." The most beautiful were first put up, and the man who bid the largest sum of money gained posession of her. The second in personal appearance followed, and the bidders gratified themselves with handsome wives, according to the depth of their purses. But alas! it seems that there were in Babylon some ladies for whom no money was likely to be offered; yet these also were disposed of—so provident were the Babylonians. "When all the beautiful virgins, " says the historian, " were sold, the crier ordered the most deformed to stand; and, after he had openly demanded who would marry her with a small dowery, she was at length adjudged to the man who would be satisfied with the least; and, in this manner, the money arising from the sale of the handsome, served as a portion to those who were either of disagreeable looks, or that had any other imperfection." This custom prevailed about 500 years before our Savior.

Old Jacob R. was in the habit of getting drunk, and so closely did his intoxication lock up his senses, that no remembrance of what occurred remained with him. He often wondered, when aroused from his drunken lethargy, what gave him such a bloody face, aching head, and torn and soiled clothes.

Knowing this peculiarity, his friends laid a plan to recover him from his vicious habit. They procured a coffin, brimstone, masks, and other things necessary, and waited patiently for the next debauch, which was not long. In his drunken stupor, he was taken, stripped, wound in a sheet, and put into the coffin, and carried into a large empty room, upon the wall of which were sketched imps of various sizes and forms, and in various antics. Over them in great black characters, some of his own misdeeds were written, The coffin was so placed that when he first opened his eyes they fell upon the writing. Lights were so arranged as to throw a dismal glare over the whole room, and strong sulphurous stench from burning brimstone, was almost suffocating.

The friends dressed in the most hideous manner, and masked, paced slowly about his coffin, waiting for him to arouse. Soon he opened his eyes, and for a moment so intense was his stare, that they seemed starting from their sockets. They wandered from one hideous object to another, until they rested upon the writing. After slowly following them through, they closed, and he seemed thinking aloud as he murmured, "In hell at last, just as I expected."

Seeing one of these hideous persons passing, he called out:

"Say, Mr. D—l, do you keep anything for a fellow to drink down here?"

His friends decided him a hopeless case.

CHESS.—There is very little style about chess. It gives a man an opportunity to balance himself on one leg, lean half over a green table, and jab a real ivory ball with a cue held across the small of his back. There is no running to first base, or going over three fences for the ball, in chess, and there is no bull's eye to hit—which are disadvantages in a way. Then a mean, little six-by-nine man, with a bulging forehead, and a watery eye, and spectacles, can whip a man twice his size; which is an anomaly calculated to disturb the equilibrium of nature.

Nearly all the postoffices in Texas are in charge of females. It works so well that the mails now arrive and depart every hour in the day.

Horses Without Shoes.

Germantown Telegraph.

There continues to be a good deal said on the subject of abandoning the shoeing of horses. A Boston man, some time ago, declared that a horse, whether on the farm or road or in the hard work on the stone pavements of the city, could stand the labor just as well without as with shoes, Winter and Summer. If this is a fact, it would be a marvelous discovery to be made only in this day of enlightenment, and of invention and discovery; but we fancy that there is next to nothing in it, as we have heard no more from the Boston man. But the matter has been warmly urged in other places, especially in England, and notably in London, where a great deal of comment has been made on the proposition. One person, who gives his name, writes to the Times of that city, saying that when a horse belonging to him required a renewal of shoes, he had them entirely removed, and turned him out a month to pasture, when he was given a mile or two of driving while the hoof was hardening. During the month's pasturing the hoof had been worn down beyond the holes where the nails had been clinched, and of course left the shell very thin and tender, but after this the hoof grew thick and hard, quite unlike what it had been before. when he put the animal to full work, and he stands it well, and is more sure-footed. He had been regularly shod before.

All horsemen know that after the shoes are removed and a horse turned out to grass, the hoofs wear very much the first month, so as to leave the shell thin and tender; and they also know that if this pasturing is continued for two or three months, the hoof grows again and becomes very thick and hard. This is the normal condition of the hoof. But few horsemen are aware, or are likely to become aware, that the shoe can be despensed with on hard roads, paved streets, etc. We regard it next to an impossibility. If otherwise, it is hardly conceivable that shoeing would ever have been thought of, and the heavy expense attending it submitted to. No, gentlemen, we must have better proof of your proposition or discovery before we shall regard it as worthy of consideration.

THE BREAK OF DAY.—As a matter of fact the day begins all around the world—not at the same instant of time, but just as the sun visits successive portions of the earth in his journey from east to west. But the traveler who crosses the Pacific Ocean can give another answer to the above question—that on the 180th degree of longitude—one-half of the circumference of the globe, starting from Greenwich east or west—there is an arbitrary change or dropping of a day, and at this point, if anywhere, the day may be said to begin. It was with strange feelings that the writer, crossing the Pacific, having gone to bed on Saturday night, leaving everything pertaining to the almanac in a satisfactory condition, awoke on Monday morning! Sunday had completely dropped from our calendar, for that week at least. Every one knows that in traveling round the world from east to west a day is lost, and in order to adjust his reckoning to that of the place he has left, one must drop a day as if he had not lived in it, when in reality the time has passed by lengthening every day during the journey. For a long time it was the custom of sailors to effect this change pretty much where they pleased; but it has become a settled rule that among American and English navigators that at the 180th degree a day must be passed over in going west and a day added in going east, in which latter case the traveler enjoys two Sundays or two Thursdays, as the case may be. It is most likely that this particular degree was decided on from the fact that, except a few scattered islands of Polynesia, there are no large communities, with their vast commercial and social transactions, to be affected by the change.—Yonkers Gazette.

A truly good girl has a wonderful influence over man. Do you ever think of it girls? Exert your power for good upon the young men who are privileged to enjoy your society. Gentle and good, be also brave and true. Try to exhibit the ideal of a woman—a pure and good woman—whose life is mighty as well as beautiful in its maidenly dignity and attractive loveliness. Do not let it ever seem that dress and frivolity constitute your only thoughts; but let the elevation of your character and the usefulness of your life lift up the man that walks at your side. Some of you are in intimate association which, under exchanged promises, look forward to a nearer and more enduring relation. In these hours do nothing to lower, but everything to refine and ennoble each other's character.

When Marshall Narvaez, it is related, was on his death-bed, his confessor asked him if he freely forgave all his enemies. "I have no enemies," replied the dying Marshal proudly. "Every one must have made enemies in the course of his life," suggested the priest mildly. "Oh, of course," replied the Marshal, "I have had a great number of enemies in my time, but I have none now. I have had them all shot!"

"JUST AS I EXPECTED.—The following story is a good illustration of the infatuation of intemperance:

CALIFORNIA LEGISLATURE.

SACRAMENTO March 9.—Assembly—New bills, by Mayhell, providing for the levying and collecting of a tax upon incomes. This bill provides an increasing tax on incomes, commencing at 1 per cent. on $2,000 incomes, and ending at 10 per cent. on $10,000 incomes.

The Senate took up bill on revenue and taxation, previous to putting the same on final passage. Sears moved to re-commit bill to finance committee, to amend section five by inserting words so as to exempt deposits in savings banks from taxation. Upon calling the roll the amendment was negatived.

SAN FRANCISCO.

FIRE IN OAKLAND.

March 9.—Fire was discovered in the Grand Central Hotel, Oakland, about two o'clock this morning. The wind was blowing a gale, and the flames had made great progress before the fire department arrived. All around the Hotel were situated other buildings, among which was the Webster house, this with five others and the Grand Central were destroyed. Losses as follows: Grand Central $250,000—partially insured. Webster House $20,000—uninsured. Other losses $6,000. The Grand Central was a wooden structure, sixty by three hundred feet, four stories high, with mansard roof. It was built about seven years ago by Micheal Reese the deceased millionaire.

MORE POLICEMEN—OAKLAND ELECTION

March 9.—The Board of Supervisors last night finally passed the Order increasing the police force.

At Oakland city election yesterday, two tickets were in the field—Citizens and Workingmen. The former made a clean sweep by majorities ranging from two hundred to fourteen hundred.

VIGILANCE COMMITTEE.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 8. The following manifesto will appear in the Call to-morrow morning. To the people of San Francisco, and State of California: That the motive of the present organization of citizens; known as Citizens Protective Union, may be properly understood and appreciated by thoughtful men, the following statement is submitted. We declare the objects and purposes of this organization, to be. First, the preservation of public peace. Second, protection of life and property. Third, restoration of confidence in security of life and property, from all violence. Fourth, resuscitation of legitimate commerce, industries, and business of the people. All this we intend, and expect to accomplish within the law and by peaceful methods. This is an organization of conservative power for the public good. It attacks no political party, and is formed without regard to party politics. We believe the time has come, when the manhood of San Francisco should be asserted, and it is intended that the line shall now be distinctly drawn, between those who are in favor of law and order, rights of property, safety and liberty of citizens, and peaceful prosperity, and those who are for riot, assassination, and pillage, anarchy, unrest, and destruction.

All good citizens who agree with us, and approve of our objects and purposes, are invited to join themselves to this organization by signing the roll. There is no middle ground upon which any man can stand neutrally in this crisis, it can only be excused by extreme or pitiable cowardice. The agitation which was begun and carried on for any time, ostensibly for discouragement of Chinese immigration, has degenerated into a carnival of impudent, blasphemous, threatenings against life and property, and villifications of private character until it has become a scandal of the times, and brought dishonor upon American civilization. As long as the agitation was confined to its original purpose, it proceeded without objection, for the whole people of California, recognized the evils of Chinese immigration, and united to oppose it by all lawful means. But now, when it is made a pretext for the organization of large bodies of armed men, whose declared purposes are riot, and possibly massacree to be aided by general conflagrations, and the actors to be rewarded by liberty of unlimited pillage, the citizens of this commonwealth have determined to interpose their power, and declare that this contemplated tragedy shall not be enacted here. That public threats of the accomplishment of such wicked and inhuman designs cannot and will not be longer tolerated. Drills in secret places, the nightly tramp in the streets of irregular armed forces accompanied by the arrogant threats of violence by their leaders, is an intolerable menace to the peace and well being of society. If no harm is intended there will be no more threats, and the display of force will be henceforth confined to public parade in the open day. The city wants peace and it is our purpose to give it that tranquility, which will assure renewed prosperity, and again place it in the highway of its grand destiny. We appeal to the reason of the men who have been drawn into the vortex of treason to social order prepared for them by vicious irresponsible and selfish leaders. We ask them to reflect that this Government of law, by the people and for the people, that there are legal and peaceful remedies for public and private wrongs. That neither Chinese question nor any other question can be settled here and now by resort to unlawful force.

That the Courts of this State, and of the United States, are arbiters of all these questions, and that their decrees will be enforced by an irresistable force of Government authority. That threats of destruction, and desolation, by dynamite and fire, of hangings, and murder, furnish no remedy for grievances, nor relief to the destitute, but rather severe to paralize all our industries and business. Check enterprise and, produce that stagnation which ultimately leaves all laborers out of employment. For vicious and reckless men, few in number, but devlish in their designs, who have organized for evil, and in their secrete halls are planing mischief to the people who have wondrously tolorated their presence in this city, we have no word either of counsel or warning. But let no man be deceived. Who ever would begin riot, violence, or conflagration here, let him first count the cost. The honest unemployed and deserving poor have the sympathy of all just men, and the appeals of those in want, have always been met with a generous response throughout California—and so will it be now. Let all turmoil cease, and all true men unite for the restoration of confidence, that enterprise may again be quickened, our industries put in motion, and business revised, so that all who labor may find remunerative employment, and want become a thing unknown. Instead of meditating upon the destruction of people, it were better to unite in the development, of the great resources of this fertile State, ample in area for us all, and millions more. money spent, for deadly weapons whose disturbing clank, is heard upon our pavements at night, were better spent for bread and clothing for children of want. There is a peaceful solution for every question; a peaceful remedy for every evil. Let reason prevail and the way to permanent tranquility and general prosperity is easily found.

An opportunity will be afforded to all good citizen to join this organization.

By order of the council.

No names are signed to the above manifesto, but it is understood, that it is put forth by a body representing the wealth and business interests of the city, including some who have been prominent in measures for the preservation of the city, from designs of the disorderly and criminal elements.

Manifesto of Citizens Protective Union published this morning. It seems to be received with much satisfaction in business circles. The general expression of opinion is that it is time something of the kind should be done. The following pledge is being circulated and is receiving numerous signatures by the citizens by the Protective Union. We the undersigned, hereby pledge ourselves to assist in all lawful ways the legally constituted authorities in the preservation of the public peace and maintenance of good order, and protection of the lives and property of our fellow citizens and it is for the purposes we associate ourselves together. These rolls are not opened in public places, but are taken around by parties designated for the purpose, about one hundred and fifty of whom are engaged in the work, and signatures are sought among those only, who are known to be in harmony with the organization, and its purposes. What view Workingmen take of the matter, has not yet been ascertained, but Kearney was seen this morning, packing a brand new Winchester rifle, with its adjuncts, and in reply to a question, said it was intended for a mantel ornament.

In United States Circuit Court this morning, Mr. Bergin closed the argument for petitions, and the case was submitted, Court giving until Saturday to file briefs.

A TYPHOON.

WILLOWS, Cal., March 8th.—The typhoon which prevailed here to-day, was very destructive to property as far as heard from. The wind storm increased in violence rapidly after 8 o'clock and by 11 o'clock, it was blowing a terrific gale, which continued until sundown, but between 10 in the fornoon and 3 in the afternoon, our people were panic stricken, and hardly knew what to do or where to go for safety. The Methodist church was moved 10 or 12 inches and carried over until the foundation walls were crushed, and the whole building materially damaged.

Colusa Lumber Company's warehouse was badly wrecked—damages $400. Marhall's stable front was blown down and a small building on north side wrecked—loss $300. When the wind had reached its height, the front fire walls of the Central Hotel, about fifty feet in length and three feet in neighth feet and smashed the porch and varanda the whole length of the building; the damage will reach $400. The north-east corner of Jones & Co's brick warehouse, for the distance of 60 or 80 feet, was blown down, which gave the wind a chance to unroof the whole building—damages $1000. The north end of the immense warehouse of Harden Bros. at Maxwell was blown down and the roof was badly wrecked—damages $400. No lives lost.

The bill introduced in the Senate by Teller is a duplicate of that portion of the Public Land Commissioner's report which relates to townsites. It proposes to continue the present system of entry of townsites by county Judges or municipal authorities in trust for the inhabitants, but repeals the alternative system of direct sale to individual occupants. Only two cities, viz: Petaluma, California and Virginia City, Nevada, have ever sought to avail themselves of the latter law, and after expensive efforts to avail themselves of its cumbersome machinery they abandoned the effort. The bill also requires an insertion of the clauses of reservation in townsite patents for the protection of subterranean rights of mines, and that a similar reservation shall be instituted to the mineral patents to protect the right of town occupants.

S. G. Morgan vs. his Creditors.

Pursuant to an order of the Hon. R. M. Brigg, Judge of the said Superior Court, no ice is hereby given to all the creditors of the said Insolvent, S. G. Morgan, to be and appear before the said Judge, in open Court, at the Court Room of said Court, in the town of Bridgeport, in the County of Mono, on the 5th day of April, A. D., 1880, at 1 o'clock P. M. of that day, then and there to show cause, if any they can, why the prayer of said Insolvent should not be granted and an assignment of his estate be made, and he be discharged from his debts and liabilities, in pursuance of the statute in such case made and provided; and in the meantime all proceedings against said Insolvent be stayed.

Witness my hand and the seal of said [L. S.] Court, this First day of March, A. D. 1880. E. N. MOULTON, County Clerk.

CONSTABLE'S SALE.

BY VIRTUE OF AN EXECUTION ISSUED out of Justice R. L. Peterson's Court, of Bodie Township, County of Mono, State of California, dated the 16th day of February, 1880, in a certain action wherein John Wagner as Plaintiff recovered judgment against William Edwin & A. W. Witman, as Defendants, for the sum of Two hundred and thirteen and 74-100 dollars U. S. gold coin, besides forty-two dollars and 45-100 U. S. gold coin, costs of suit, on the 16th day of February, 1880. I have levied on the following described real property of Defendants, to-wit: All of that certain lot, piece, or parcel of land lying and being situate in the Town of Bodie, Mono county, California, and described as follows: Fronting on the westerly side of Main street 22 feet, and running westerly of uniform width to Bonanza street, 125 feet, more or less, bounded by a barber's shop on the North, and by McAlpin's saloon on the south and occupied by defendants as a saloon, together with all the improvements thereon. Notice is hereby given that on WEDNESDAY, THE 10TH DAY OF MARCH, 1880,

at 1 o'clock P. M., of that day, on the premises in Bodie, County of Mono, state of California, I will sell all the right, title and interest of said William Edwin & A. W. Witman in and to the above described property, at public auction, for cash in U. S. gold coin to the highest and best bidder, to satisfy said execution and all costs.

Dated at Bodie, the 10th day of February, 1880.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

ARRIVALS—YESTERDAY:

FROM VIRGINIA.—M. S. McLeon, N. White James Grady and Wife. J. Loyrahan and child M. Marshal, J. Williams, H. Forgeson, H. Wo sh. and Mrs. Brigham and 3 children.

FROM CARSON—T. S. Merchant, Mr. Coblintz D. Haden, and wife, Geo. Pullist. M. Marks.

DEPARTURES—YESTERDAY:

D. M. Jackson, C. T. McKenny, M. Toty, H. Ward and A. Y. Ross.

CON PACIFIC.
Martin Jones, Sup't.

The equipment of this mine for deep development is now complete. An engine and blower is being added to the powerful hoisting machinery to convey air to the 400 and 500 feet levels, and in a short time a cage, of the latest improved pattern, will be running in the south compartment of the shaft. Stations at the 400 and 500 feet levels, are completed and drifting and crosscutting for ore veins will now be carried forward until the large slice of the valuable mineral belt covered by the several claims of this company is thoroughly explored. Drifts will be driven northerly to explore and prove the valuable bodies, known to exist near the croppings in that direction, and several hundred feet of ground lying south of the shaft, will also be explored by drifts and crosscuts beneath the heavy cap of sedementary rock, which has been penetrated by the shaft and rendered exploration in the vein formation practicable.—This portion of the ground is entirely unknown, and unexplored, except by the main south drift, 400 foot level, and now advanced, south of station, 179 feet, and from which crosscuts will be started to explore the ore veins, both to the east and west.—A drift on the same level, north, is now being driven and has been advanced 156 feet for the same purpose. From the station at the 500 foot level, a crosscut has been started east to cut the veins lying in that direction. Quite a large force of men is now employed, and when the cage is in place and increasing the hoisting capacity, the force will be increased and sinking for the 600 level will be resumed.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—About one o'clock yesterday afternoon a serious accident happened to J. Hickey, who was working in a prospect shaft on Booker Flat, near Hessel's house. He had fired a blast and was ascending in the bucket, when the handle of the windlass gave way, precipitating him to the bottom, some twenty feet. After he fell, or about that time, the blast went off. He was taken out and was found to have sustained serious injuries, his right leg being broken, and right ankle mashed. He was also badly cut about the face and may have sustained internal injuries. Dr. Rogers, Jr. was immediately summoned and Mr. Hickey was brought to town and taken to the Comstock House, where he is receiving every attention at the hands of Dr. Rogers Jr.. Mr. Hickey is a mining partner of our townsman, Silas B. Smith.

A MOUSE! A MOUSE!!—When one of our lady compositors finished reading the resolutions of Typographical Union, "rat ting" this office, and consequently making "rats" of our compositors, Minnie, her four-year old daughter, asked her mother if she was not a mouse. Will the Union solve the knotty problem.

The BODIE CHRONICLE, lately published as a weekly, is now a daily. It is a good local paper.

We presume our morning cotem. will call the above, from the Virginia Enterprise, another dish of "hog wash."

PIONEERS' MEETING.—The Pacific Coast Pioneers held a meeting last evening and appointed Judge Newman, Dr. D. L. Deal, Dr. H. B. Davison and J. N. Harrison a Committee on socials to be given at stated intervals.

FINE CONFECTIONARY—Mrs Swan has opened a confectionary store in Abbot's building, on Main street, between Standard Avenue and Main street. She intends to keep a fresh supply at all times and at reasonable prices.

SENT BELOW.—On Monday last Deputy Sheriff Kirgan sent M. Cormack, convicted of petty larceny, to Bridgeport, for forty days.

A CHANGE.—We learn that Captain Taylor has been appointed Superintendent of the Noonday mine.

QUIET.—Yesterday was a quiet day, there being no criminal arrests.

The BODIE CHRONICLE has begun the publication of a daily, with flattering prospects of success. Bodie is forging ahead wonderfully, and we are glad to see that the Messrs. Folger are keeping pace with the march of events there.—Santa Clara Journal

One likes to be cheered in the sometimes dismal path of life, and an encouraging word now and then costs little and is worth a great deal "Is that charcoal which you have in your wagon?" said a gentleman to a cart driver. The driver whipped up his horse, drove across the street and had visions of brisk business as he answered. "Yes sir." "That is right," continued the bland old gentleman, as he walked off; "always speak the truth and people will respect you.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C. March 1st, 1880.

To-morrow the new refunding bill will be taken up probably for discussion, as that is the day to which it was assigned. The friends of the measure have foundastrong argument in its favor from the fact that the Treasury books show Wm. H. Vanderbilt to be the owner of thirty-one million in four per cent. bonds, twenty millions dollars of which he bought at par. As their present market value is 107, Mr. Vanderbilt has already made a profit of one million four hundred thousand dollars by his investment, besides the year's interest, which is eight hundred thousand dollars more. Mr. Vanderbilt calculates that when the new refunding bill, which provides for a three and a half per cent. bond is passed, the fours will not sell for less than 110, and of course the recent advance of the fours makes it highly improbable that a higher rate of interest can be established.

The fact that Indiana has elected a solid Blaine delegation to the Chicago Convention, and that the Illinois Convention to elect delegates has been postponed to May 19 are disappointments to the friends of General Grant, who expected a strong following in the first State and to control the second for early action. The divisions and dissatisfactions in New York and Pennsylvania also tend to indicate that nobody is to be nominated by a boom previous to the National Convention, but must abide by the decision; then Don Cameron is said to be sad over the fact that even his own State objects to his dictating terms to the whole Republican party.

The President's views on the exediency of resfirming the Monroe doctrine are expected to be made public during the week. The understanding is that he will take very decided grounds. The division among those who oppose such steps on the part of the President will not be partisan, but it is thought a large majority in Congress will agree with him. There is a growing distrust of the French scheme for the Panama Canal, and well there may be, for besides the prospect of a French establishment on the Isthmus to threaten our peace, it is discovered that DeLesseps the French leader in the scheme is not an engineer at all, and probably Americans who have hastened to give him support will now hasten to retreat on the belief that he is simply a wild cat speculator. Secretary Sherman has made good his promise of reducing the public debt to below 2,000,000,000 before the expiration of his term of office. On the 1st of February 1880, he was within $780,000 of his promise, and he has during the last month reduced the debts 5,000,000 besides paying $6,000,000 in Pensions.

MAXWELL.

"RATS."

At a meeting of the Bodie Typographical Union, No. 183, held on Sunday evening, March 7th, the following report was received from a committee appointed by the Union to wait upon R. M. & A. C. Folger, proprietors and publishers of the BODIE MORNING CHRONICLE, to ascertain the rate of composition and wages paid in said CHRONICLE office; and if not such as fixed by the Union, to request compliance with our rules governing the same. Your Committee beg leave to report that in compliance with the instructions of the Bodie Typographical Union, we called upon the proprietors of the BODIE MORNING CHRONICLE. Robert Folger did declare that they would not comply with the rules of the Bodie Typographical Union fixing the rates of composition or wages of employes, therefore, be it

RESOLVED, That the said BODIE MORNING CHRONICLE is declared a rat office.

RESOLVED, That employing compositors at 30 per cent. less than the rates fixed by this Union is the first blow at a general reduction of wages and to the life of the Typographical Union, and that such reduction, if allowed to succeed by this Union, would be a flagrant violation of justice to the newspaper press of Bodie who uphold our rates.

RESOLVED, That we will not, in any manner, patronize any parties who assist in sustaining the BODIE CHRONICLE office, until such time as said office fix the rates of wages laid down by the Bodie Typographical Union. And that all friends of our Union are requested to use their influence, by withholding patronage from the BODIE MORNING CHRONICLE, until said office comply with the rates of wages fixed by this Union.

RESOLVED, That the Bodie Miner's Union be served with a copy of these resolutions and requested to extend their active sympathy and support.

C. S. HAYES, Prest.,
J. S. GUNAY, Vice Prest.
T. B. WESTON, Secy,

The issue forced upon us does not concern the public, as we can manage our business without submitting to the insolent dictation of a handful of irresponsible, and beardless carpet-baggers. But when we take into consideration the possibility of a financial crisis impending upon the sudden withdrawal from our banks the funds of the members of the Union; this, in connection with the suspension of their valuable patronage from those having the temerity to advertise in this journal, we feel it a duty to prevent a serious calamity, probably, by saying that we shall firmly maintain our vantage, and retain our lady compositors at the rate of fifty cents per 1000—better pay than miners receive. We deny that we lowered the price of composition. Our cotemporaries foolishly advanced it. This is the Union against lady compositors.

At the Union shaft on the Comstock the miners wash their clothes in a settling tub provided for that purpose, About one ton of dirt collects monthly, which yields an average of $260.

BUILDERS OF STEAM MACHINERY IN all its branches, Steamboat, steamship and land
ENGINES AND BOILERS.
High Pressure and Compound.

Ordinary Engines compounded when advisable.

Steam Boilers.—Particular attention given to the quality of the material and workmanship, and none but first-class work produced.

Water Pipe of boiler and sheet iron of any size, made in suitable lengths for connecting together, or sheets rolled, punched and packed for shipment, ready to be riveted on the ground.

Hydraulic Riveting.—Boiler work and water pipe made by this establishment riveted by hydraulic riveting machinery, that quality of work being far superior to hand work.

Pump—For mining, of any capacity and of any style. Our style of direct acting compound engines, with double line of pumps, are particularly recommended.

Direct Acting Engines for underground work, irrigation, or city water works purposes, built with the celebrated Davey valve motion, superior to any other.

Mining Machinery—Quartz mills, pans, boilers, hoisting machinery, sinking hoisting engines, or other machinery required.
